

How does a student see the counselor?

- Teacher referral
- Self referral
- Parent request
- Administrative Referral
- Appointment made by counselor

There are a number of reasons for children to seek out a counselor at the school. The times that we live in can be difficult and stressful. Many personal and school related problems have a direct impact on a child's ability to learn. The school counselor provides a safe, confidential environment for all students.

A child may come in for counseling at their own request, however, parent permission is always asked for and will need to be granted for any further meetings to occur.